

L'ANGOLO DELLA LETTURA

(The reading corner)

Martina Medda ha letto per noi:

Una Farfalla in Giardino (A Butterfly in the Garden)

This book is about a butterfly, not just any butterfly but a white butterfly.

She doesn't have any colour and for this reason, she is very sad.

I suggest the reading of this to a Beginner student. Above all, it will teach the Italian colour names, the flower names and the Present tense.

In addition, it is a lovely book about friendship and generosity, with a brilliant happy ending.

Buona lettura!
